Exemption from foreign language requirement

Students may submit a foreign language exemption waiver if proficiency in a language other than English or a learning disability precludes learning a foreign language can be documented. Students who are granted an exemption from the foreign language requirement are not exempt from the credits needed, but rather from the specific language courses.

Students with proficiency in a language other than English prior to enrollment can petition for an exemption to this standard by submitting the course exemption petition form to the associate dean of the college. Exemptions may be granted after review of evidence, which may include:

1. Secondary school records which demonstrate that most instruction was in a language other than English.
2. Successful completion of a proficiency test administered by an ASC faculty member who is proficient in that language.
3. Successful completion of a proficiency test administered by a US college faculty member, who would then certify using college letterhead that the student is at or above the intermediate collegiate level of proficiency.
4. Successful completion of an A level examination in a language other than English.

Language in which student is proficient: ____________________________

Students registered with the office of student disability services for a learning disability that precludes learning a foreign language can petition for an exemption. Students should submit the course exemption petition form to the associate dean of the college. Please attach a brief statement about what aspects of learning a foreign language are most difficult, interventions used to enhance learning and a plan describing the four alternate courses that will be used to substitute the foreign language courses. Please list the four courses below. These courses must be in the same cultural area of study (i.e. courses about culture in Africa, Japan, Latin America or courses in American Sign Language including a course on deaf culture).
