The Agnes Scott College English Department presents Writers and Scholars Series Chelsea Rathburn

Reading her poetry

Wednesday, September 26, 7 p.m.
Luchsinger Fireplace Lounge, Alston Campus Center
Book signing to follow

Chelsea Rathburn is the author of the poetry collection The Shifting Line, which won the 2005 Richard Wilbur Award, and the chapbook Unused Lines. Her poems have appeared in Poetry, The Atlantic Monthly, The New Republic, The Southern Review, The New England Review, and Ploughshares, as well as many other journals and anthologies. In 2009, she received a poetry fellowship from the National Endowment for the Arts. Currently a lecturer in poetry at Emory University, she lives in Decatur, Georgia, with her husband, the poet Jim May, and their daughter Adelyn.