Agnes Scott College educates women to think deeply, live honorably and engage the intellectual and social challenges of their times.

Students:
- Fall enrollment 2008: 847 students from 43 states and 19 countries; 92 percent of traditional students live on campus.
- 6 percent of our students are international.
- More than one third of our students are from underrepresented ethnic backgrounds.
- About 40 percent of Agnes Scott students will study abroad before they graduate.
- Agnes Scott’s honor system is one of the oldest in the country, our student self-government celebrated its 100th anniversary in 2006.
- Historically and presently, Agnes Scott students have earned academia’s most prestigious scholarships including the Rhodes, Truman, Fulbright, Goldwater and Gates Millennium scholarships and the Pickering Fellowships.

Profile of the Class of 2012:
- The class of 2012: total enrollment is 179
- 18 percent of the class of 2012 graduated in the top 5 percent of their high school class. 34 percent were in the top 10 percent or better. 80 percent of 2012 first-years attended public schools.
- Extracurricular Activities/Interests:
  - 49.2% Community Service
  - 32.4% Music
  - 39.7% Sports
  - 29.1% Languages
  - 34.6% Drama/Dance
  - 14.0% Publications
  - 28.5% Pre-law/pre-med
- Mean High School GPA: 3.61
- Middle 50 percent range of SAT: 1060-1260 (includes only critical reading and mathematics scores)
- Middle 50 percent range of ACT: 22-28

RECOGNITION

U.S. News & World Report 2009 “America’s Best Colleges” ranked Agnes Scott as:
- 9th among liberal arts colleges considered “Top in Innovation” in “Schools to Watch”
- 16th for “Great School, Great Prices” among national liberal arts colleges (up from 30th last year)
- One of the top 10 liberal arts colleges in the South, the number one college in Georgia, and the best women’s college in the Southeast.

The Princeton Review’s Best 368 Colleges 2008 ranked Agnes Scott as:
- 11th for “Town-Gown Relations,” (up from 20th last year)
- 15th for “Best Quality of Life”
- 17th among “Stone-Cold Sober Schools”
- 19th for “Best Classroom Experience”
- 20th for schools that “Don’t Inhale.”

The third edition (2006) of “Colleges that Change Lives” has chosen Agnes Scott for a second time as one of the “40 Schools That Will Change the Way You Think About Colleges”.

Agnes Scott received an overall score of 55 out of a possible 100 in the June 2007 college rankings in Washington Monthly Magazine. The score, based on combined measures in social mobility, research and service, placed Agnes Scott 61 out of 201 liberal arts college.

Agnes Scott College ranks #2 nationally in the percentage of graduates who earned Ph.D.s in economics from 1997 to 2003 according to a recent study published in the Journal of Economic Education.

About.com—a subsidiary of The New York Times—named Agnes Scott one of the seven best women’s colleges in the nation in Aug. 2008. Agnes Scott and Scripps joined the five remaining original “Seven Sisters” in this “seven best” list.

A group of high school juniors and seniors voted Agnes Scott’s virtual tour #1 in the country from a list of 100 colleges and universities. An article about the study appeared in the Oct. 2008 issue of Currents, the publication of the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education. Take the virtual tour at www.agnesscott.edu.
Academic programs:
- Number of full-time faculty: 84
- Tenure-track faculty with Ph.D. or terminal degree: 100 percent
- Student/faculty ratio: 10:1
- Average number of students per class: 13
- 34 majors and 27 minors; as well as programs in pre-law and pre-medicine, dual-degree programs in architecture, engineering and nursing
- Master of Arts in Teaching degree in English, biology, chemistry, physics and mathematics
- Post-baccalaureate certificate program in pre-medicine

Athletics:
- The Scotties are currently represented with 7 varsity teams that play at the NCAA Division III level: Basketball, Cross Country, Soccer, Softball, Swimming, Tennis and Volleyball
- It's Official—Lacrosse is Now a Varsity Sport at Agnes Scott College! The Scotties will begin competing during the 2009-2010 school year and are currently recruiting for this inaugural team.

Finances:
- College's comprehensive fee for 2008-09 is $38,910, which includes tuition, room and board, and student activity fees.
- Agnes Scott's endowment is valued at $307.6 million as of June 30, 2008.
- Annual operating budget: $42 million
- 67 percent of students qualify for and receive need-based financial aid. The average need-based institutional award is approximately $10,000.

Alumnae Giving:
- 2007-08 annual fund goals: 48 percent and $2.334 million
- 2007-08 annual fund participation: 47 percent
- 2007-08 annual fund total: $2,732,423
- Solicitable alumnae for 2008-09: 8,091
- 2008-09 annual fund goals: 48 percent and $2.461 million

Updated: 12/1/2008

ALUMNAE ACHIEVEMENTS

Marsha Norman ’69x, H’05, won the Pulitzer Prize for her play, ‘night, Mother. She has adapted other works for Broadway plays, including the musicals The Color Purple and The Secret Garden, for which she received a Tony award. Norman is also a faculty member at The Julliard School.

Katherine “Kay” Krill ’77, was named CEO of Ann Taylor Stores Corp in 2004. A psychology major, Krill joined the company in 1994 and was instrumental in the creation and launch of Ann Taylor Loft, one of the company’s most successful divisions. Krill became executive vice president of Ann Taylor Loft in 1996 and was promoted to president of that division in 2001.

Following success as a solo musician with folk and country roots, Jennifer Nettles ’97 joined the band Sugarland in 2003. The group was nominated for a 2006 Grammy in the Best New Artist category. In 2005, the band won an American Music Award for Favorite New Artist. In 2006, Nettles again made the Billboard Top 100 for a duet with Jon Bon Jovi, the single “Who Says You Can’t Go Home.” The single won a 2007 Grammy award in the category of Best Country Collaboration With Vocals. In 2008, Nettles was nominated for CMA’s “Entertainer of the Year” and Sugarland won “Vocal Duo of the Year.

Jean Hoef er Toal ’65 is Chief Justice of the South Carolina Supreme Court, the first and only woman to hold that position. In 2006, she was quoted in Cambridge University Press’ Reconceiving the Family, Critique on the American Law Institute’s Principles of the Law of Family Dissolution.

Agnes Scott College President Emerita Mary Brown Bullock is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the class of 1966. She served from 1995 to 2006 as the college’s president. A respected China scholar, she is a former director of the Asia Program at The Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars in Washington, D C. She also is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations.

Amy S. Kim ’97, a member of the team responsible for creating West Bank Story—a musical comedy about cross-cultural love—won an Academy Award for the “Best Live Action Short Film” category in March of 2007. About ASC, she says, “I definitely got to become a leader… I got to spread my wings while I was there. I think it’s really bled over into how I lead my career as well.”

Ila Burdette ’81, a mathematics major, was named Georgia’s first woman Rhodes Scholar in 1980. She later earned her master’s degree from Oxford University. She is a practicing architect known for her work designing special-needs environments, such as hospices and homes for the elderly.