

Textbook Saving$ Tips

This list of suggestions is meant to help students save money when purchasing textbooks. Explore options to make informed decisions. First, check AscAgnès for textbook-specific ISBNs (e.g., 9781429218153), or ask if your professor approves another edition.

1] ASC Campus Bookstore Campus bookstore	5] Online Book Swaps SwapTree.com
Textbooks in print, eBooks from Follett, rentals and cash buyback for your used textbooks.	Certain sites allow you to trade books with other students online.
2] Purchase Used Textbooks	6] Rent Textbooks
Cheaper than new books, you can buy used textbooks online. CampusBooks.com CollegeSwapShop.com Amazon.com	Some sites allow you to rent textbooks for a specific timeframe. Make sure you return the books on time as late fees can be significant. Be clear on rental terms and conditions before you commit. eFollett.com BookRenter.com CampusBookRentals Chegg.com
3] eBooks	7] Free Downloads
Electronic editions of books are often less expensive than print versions. All major retailers sell e-Books, as do book publishers. Campus libraries collect e-Books too. ASC Library - SOPHIA eFollett.com VitalSource.com eCampus.com CengageBrain.com	Some books that are no longer copyrighted can be used online or downloaded for free. GoogleBooks Gutenberg.org OERConsortium
4] Comparison Shop	8] Ask for Unbundled Textbooks
Use ISBNs (international standard book numbers) to to comparison shop the major book sellers or use with sites that compare prices. ISBNs should be in AscAgnès course details. SlugBooks.com AffordABook.com Alibris.com	9] McCain Library Course Reserves Some – not all – expensive textbooks may available for 2-hour loan. Ask at the Circ Desk. Also, ask your professor if they are willing to put a personal or review copy of the textbook on reserve at McCain Library. While the whole class may be sharing it, it can at least help while you wait for your own copy to arrive in the mail.

