Distribution of Collected Facilities and Administrative Costs from Externally-Funded Projects

Facilities & Administrative (F&A) recovery (also known as “indirect cost recovery”) pays for expenses that cannot be tied directly to a particular grant project, but that are needed to support the grant project. It pays for the facilities (buildings, grounds, utilities, etc.) and the administrative effort expended by people not paid directly by the grant funds (HR, Accounting, ITS, Faculty Services, OSP, etc.). Collected F&A is not profit for the College. It is meant to cover at least some of the costs of supporting externally funded projects.

Once each quarter, Agnes Scott College distributes the collected facilities and administrative recovery from externally-funded projects in the following manner:

- 25% to the general fund
- 25% to Academic Affairs
- 25% to OSP
- 25% to the PI’s research fund
